Meaning and Myth is a short collection of Levi-Strauss' lectures. It is remarkable because it gives insight into the thoughts of this famous anthropologist. The recorded lectures were given orally, which creates new respect for the genius of a man who could speak so fluently and eloquently in a language that is not his native tongue.

Myth and Meaning is not the survey (or gloss) of Lévi-Strauss' thought that I hoped it would be. Rather, it is a more Zen-like series of observations on how the great anthropologist conceived of the subjects, mixing hope for scientific progress (which Lévi-Strauss saw as growing increasingly comprehensive and ultimately embracing the meanings that pre-literate societies gave to physical phenomena) with blunt realizations that history has replaced myth as literacy has replaced oral ...

About Myth and Meaning. Ever since the rise of science and the scientific method in the seventeenth century, we have rejected mythology as the product of superstitious and primitive minds. Only now are we coming to a fuller appreciation of the nature and role of myth in human history. In these five lectures originally prepared for Canadian radio, Claude Lévi-Strauss offers, in brief summations, the insights of a lifetime spent interpreting myths and trying to discover their significance for ...

In structural anthropology, Claude Lévi-Strauss, a French anthropologist, makes the claim that "myth is language". Through approaching mythology as language, Lévi-Strauss suggests that it can be approached the same way as language can be approached by the same structuralist methods used to address language. Thus, Lévi-Strauss offers a structuralist theory of mythology; he clarifies, "Myth is language, functioning on an especially high level where meaning succeeds practically at 'taking ...

Claude Levi-Strauss - The Structural Study of Myth - summary, review and analysis - part 1 - part 2 - part 3 - part 4. In his 'The Structural Study of Myth' anthropologist Claude Levi-Strauss argues that myth is like language. One might suppose that myth is a subdivision of language (a specific form of using language) but according to Levi-Strauss myth has its own characteristics which distinguish it from its language and which make myth a language in itself.
